SHINING A LIGHT ON THE SOUTHWEST REGION

Dear SouthWest,

As we step into the last quarter of our fiscal year, now is the time to focus, push forward, and ensure we meet our goals. Every effort counts, and the dedication and excellence you bring daily will drive us to a strong finish. Let's continue delivering the exceptional service and results that set us apart.

In addition to our business goals, prioritizing health and well-being is essential. April 2 marks National Walking Day, a great reminder to take a break, get moving, and refresh our minds. Whether it's a quick walk outside or a few extra steps throughout the day, let's make movement a part of our routine to stay energized and focused.

Congratulations to Chantelle Ballard's Exceptional Efforts in Oklahoma City!

Chickasaw Nation Medical Center Nutrition Screen and Refer

Chickasaw Nation Medical Center is implementing the Lifestyle Rx - Healthy Hearts, Healthy Moms program. The Chickasaw Nation Medical Center project aimed to implement nutrition screening and referral services to improve community health. We supported this program by providing resources and training to healthcare providers. This initiative has had a significant impact on the community, particularly healthy eating habits and preventing chronic diseases.

NEED TO KNOW

Q3 Check-ins are now live in Workday!

This is a great opportunity for employees and managers to reflect on Quarter 3 (January - March), set clear goals for Quarter 4 (April - June), and ensure continuous growth through meaningful feedback and coaching conversations.

Next Steps for Employees (Please complete by 4/11/2025):

- Take time to reflect on your Q3 accomplishments, update your goals, and prepare to discuss them during your check-in with your manager.
- Mangers should finalize Q4 goals by 4/30/2025.
- All updates must be entered in Workday.

Here are a few conversation starters to guide your check-ins:

- What accomplishments from Q3 are you most proud of?
- What still needs to be achieved to meet Q4 goals?
- What should we start, stop, or continue doing to drive success?

By reflecting on our progress and setting clear goals, we can finish the fiscal year strong a success in Q4!

For guidance on making Workday updates, visit the Check-In Folder in SharePoint.

FROM TANYA'S DESK

Team SouthWest,

As April comes to a close and May begins, we enter American Stroke Month, an opportunity to help people understand the signs of a stroke and how they can reduce their risk.

Stroke remains one of the leading causes of death and disability in the U.S., but up to 80% of strokes can be prevented by managing risk factors. That is where your work makes a true and lasting difference.

This edition of The Torch highlights el factors for stroke such as physical ina hope you feel proud of what you are visible at first, but its impact is real.

Thank you for everything you do, this communities.

BIG WINS

Making time for movement on National Walking Day

Across the country, National Walking Day encouraged people to get moving together. Walking is a simple yet powerful way to support your physical and mental health, and research shows it can reduce your risk for heart disease and stroke. Thank you to everyone who participated, shared photos, and inspired others to live the mission and move more.

And a special shoutout to the Denver team, who was joined by Colorado Governor Jared Polis for National Walking Day!

The Sustainability Alliance Annual Report

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

This year, The Sustainability Alliance celebrates another year of meaningful progress, innovation, and connection. Whether you're reviewing this Annual Report as a generous supporter, someone considering investing your time or resources, or simply thumbing throughout of curiosity—thank you for being part of this journey. As you explore the pages ahead, we hope you'll see a compelling vision for a more sustainable and fulfilling future.

With a small but dedicated team, vibrant volunteers, and a committed board, we continue to steward your contributions with care and efficiency. Together, we've achieved what some thought impossible: bringing together people from all walks of life and industries—each at a different point in their journey to balance people, profit, and planet.

At The Sustainability Alliance, we meet you where you are. We offer access to community, resources, and tools that serve as levers for lasting change. In the following pages, you'll see a growing list of communities, companies, and individuals who believe in this mission and are helping us enhance our place in the world.

Among the highlights of 2024, I'm especially proud of the expansion of our newest program, First Steps. This initiative provides tailored support to schools, faith-based communities, and nonprofits, helping them reduce waste, cut costs, and move their communities toward shared sustainability goals. What we witnessed was beautiful! Members helping members, planting trees, cleaning up creeks, and deepening relationships rooted in shared purpose. One example of this shared commitment was our work with local leaders to address stewardship of the Arkansas River—demonstrating what's possible when we work together around a shared resource.

To those who have supported this small but mighty team—thank you. And to those just learning about our work, we invite you to join us. Step by step, together, we are building a legacy of sustainability for future generations..

With heartfelt gratitude,

Corey Wren Williams
Executive Director

MidAmerica Industrial Park Newsletter Series

FROM THE DESK OF David Stewart

Board of Trustees Member

MidAmerica's Momentum: Powered by Vision, Built for What's Next

MidAmerica Industrial Park is in the midst of a defining moment—one that's years in the making and now accelerating with the momentum of new investment, new talent pipelines and a renewed commitment to building not just a place of business but a place to belong.

With CBC Global Ammunition's $300 million investment and 350 new jobs on the horizon, the impact across our region will be immediate and long-lasting. But this milestone is not an endpoint—it's a time when our history helps define our future. We call this next chapter Project Horizon, and it represents the future of MidAmerica as a fully integrated community: where industry, workforce, education, housing and lifestyle meet.

To support the growth ahead, we're actively planning new housing developments and preparing for suppliers who will follow CBC's lead. We're also continuing to expand amenities in The District, including new dining and retail options, to make MidAmerica a place where employees, families and visitors want to live, work and stay.

Workforce development remains a top priority. Our recently launched Electrical and Electronics Technology Program, created in partnership with Northeast Tech and OSU Institute of Technology, is just one example of how we're aligning educational opportunities with employer needs in advanced manufacturing, energy and defense.

There's a growing sense of momentum across the Park, the result of sustained focus and forward-thinking leadership. Our long-term investments in infrastructure, workforce and quality-of-life initiatives have positioned MidAmerica as a premier destination for global industry. And now, with CBC's commitment, we're setting the pace for what comes next.

We're ready—and we're just getting started.

Onward,
David Stewart

CBC Global Ammunition Selects MidAmerica for $300 Million U.S. Manufacturing Facility

Company to create 350 new jobs and establish CBC USA in Oklahoma

CBC GLOBAL AMMUNITION

MidAmerica Industrial Park's legacy as a defense manufacturing hub is being redefined for the future. Officials with MidAmerica and CBC Global Ammunition announced the company is expanding its global footprint with a major U.S. investment to launch CBC USA. A world leader in ammunition for portable weapons, CBC will invest $300 million in building a state-of-the-art ammunition manufacturing facility at MidAmerica and create 350 new jobs in northeast Oklahoma.

"Today marks another milestone moment for MidAmerica Industrial Park and our historic land," said David Stewart, CEO of MidAmerica. "What was once a munitions facility supporting America's efforts in World War II is now poised to become the future of ammunition manufacturing with CBC Global Ammunition's investment. This milestone is more than an economic victory—it's a powerful continuation of our legacy. We are honored to welcome CBC to MidAmerica, where history, innovation and opportunity come together to build a stronger future for Oklahoma and the nation."

The new facility reinforces CBC's long-term commitment to the U.S. defense industry and domestic manufacturing. As part of CBC Global Ammunition, CBC USA brings more than a century of expertise to the U.S. market, establishing one of the country's most advanced and vertically integrated ammunition production operations.

"We are thrilled to bring our new manufacturing operations to Oklahoma," said Fabio Mazzaro, president of CBC and board member of CBC Global Ammunition. "This facility will be a cornerstone for our future growth in the world's most important market for small caliber ammunition. With in-house production of all components, propellant and critical energetic raw materials, we envisage to build an industry-leading and fully vertically
